

Edward Mathias

Managing Director, Carlyle Group

Edward J. Mathias is a member of The Board of Directors and a Managing Director of The Carlyle Group, a publicly-traded Global Alternative Asset Management firm with approximately $200 billion under management. He was instrumental in the founding of The Carlyle Group and assisted in raising the firm's initial capital. Prior to joining Carlyle in January 1994, Mr. Mathias was a long-time member of the Management Committee and Board of Directors of T. Rowe Price Associates, Inc., a major investment management organization.

Mr. Mathias presently oversees a number of the firm's investment activities around the globe. He serves on the Investment Committees for each of Carlyle's Growth Equity Funds in the U.S., Europe, Ireland, and Asia as well as Carlyle's Mid-Eastern Northern African Fund (MENA) and Sub-Saharan Africa Fund. Additionally, he is active in Carlyle's broad-based investment strategy and serves in an advisory role for the firm's Global Credit Funds. Mr. Mathias has a long history in venture capital and extensive experience in the emerging/frontier markets.

Mr. Mathias holds an M.B.A. from Harvard Business School where he previously served on The Dean's Board of Advisors and continues working closely with The School. He has an undergraduate degree from the University of Pennsylvania where he is a Trustee Emeritus and was a long-time member of the Penn Investment Board that oversees the University's endowment. He served as a Supply Officer aboard ship in the U.S. Navy and subsequently as a White House Military Social Aide under President Lyndon B. Johnson. Mr. Mathias is also a member of The Council on Foreign Relations.
